BAKE SHOPPE & BISTRO

"I am that Bread of Life"
John 6:48

We bring you wonderful taste as well as the feeling of home, of times gone by, of good quality, of healthy food and warm hearts.

The Ladies of
"Our Daily Bread" & Sweeney

Christ's love is greater than anyone can ever know, but I pray that you will be able to know that love. Ephesians 3:19

Connie bought the most beautiful blue silk roses. Blue has always been Connie's favorite color. We chose to use this calming cool color for our January Special Events meal, but it had a surprise for us, as life lessons often do. Connie loves to pick up little surprises for others and there she stood with blue roses, "look what I found, aren't they pretty?" "I'll just lay them here, maybe you would like to use them on the dessert table or something". Later that day, Kate came in and made a comment about the tacky blue roses. (I guess she didn't see what Connie saw.) When Marilyn came in on Saturday to decorate the dessert table, she saw the little blue roses, and began to clip them apart and lay them around among the desserts. On the fireplace mantel she placed a vase of roses with a ribbon tied around it and put a flag in the side. Now enters Cindy, "I'm sorry Marilyn, but that just looks awful, you never have things all at the same level. " "If you take a bit of tulle, and lay the roses down, then loose the flag, it is just tacky!" "See, much better". The January celebration went off without a hitch. The steaks were wonderful, the shrimp scampi was delicious, but something was lurking around, and it had a strange blue color. It just wouldn't go away. Marilyn called today and we talked about what had happened. Marilyn put it like this..."Does it mean that every one of us will have a different opinion and each is as important as the other's opinion? Who gets the last word?

The strongest ones? In that case, Kate took it from Connie, I took it from Kate and you took it from me. We can say stuff and hash it over without feeling hurt and once hashed over--It's funny and a lesson learned BUT if we keep thinking about it--It starts bothering us and something so small and insignificant can be used by the devil to become a huge monster that wants to devour us. OH what a wonderful thing that we have. I wish everyone could share like that. But for us let's just praise Him & thank Him. "

Colossians 3:13 says...Get along with each other, and forgive each other. If someone does wrong to you, forgive that person because the Lord forgave you.*

Unity doesn't begin in examining others but in examining self.

..... Blessings!

Elmer & Kate Ronnebaum are frequent guests to our Special Events Dinners. Elmer wanted to know what he could do to get in the newsletter and we told him it had to be something profound. Well, we found out that Elmer had surgery the other day, and we consider that something Profound..... Hope you are feeling well Elmer and hope to see you back again soon...

Ernie, Chris and James Hazlett have been in Pascagoula, Mississippi since January 7th and are due to return to Kansas January 28th. They have been part of a Volunteers in Mission group of 140 people, working on reconstruction in the areas most affected by the hurricanes in the gulf coast this summer. "Simply His" is Don and Donna Mohl of Fair Grove, MO and Jerry and Cheryl Jorgenson of Russellville, MO. Their love of the Lord shine through the personal testimonies shared at every concert. There is no admission charge, but a love offering will be taken.

These folks stayed with Gina Rencin this summer and enjoyed lunch here and our little town of Barnes. They live close to the "Chepstow" Castle in England. So many of the small towns in Kansas carry the native names of where those immigrants came from. The town of Chepstow is located 5 miles south of Barnes, and the cemetery there is a walk through history.
