February 2012

For God so Loved the World, that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life.

.....John 3:16

"Love is"..... A very popular phrase during this month dedicated to the celebration of its existence. That phrase is certainly the most used, if not the most misused in any language. The mere ability to love is a miracle, and truly a gift of God to mankind that binds us together with Him. Love can bring out the best in any relationship, especially when the recipients of that love choose to accept the faults of the other and put the needs of the object of their love first. That same capacity to love can break our hearts, and often has, when trust is betrayed or our own selfish nature demands its own way. We have all had experiences of both the betrayal and being the betrayer of that precious gift of love. How many times we tromp on another's emotions and yes, heart, without even realizing what devastation we have left in our path. Oh, yes...and then of course, if we do realize it we like to tuck it away with words of empty justification. It is hard for us to accept that we have reaped the same havoc on others, that has often broken our hearts.

So what is the answer to this painful condition? Relationships are hard...this side of Heaven, requiring large amounts of time and forgiveness. We are dealing with the human condition of our own sinful needs and desires. It is quite a puzzling thought to think that this Love...this gift of God...that has the ability to break our heart.. Is also His answer to the whole problem! "For God So Loved the World"....that He sent His ONLY SON!....What Amazing Love! A love that patterns for us His total love for us in that while we were still in our selfish and ugly state He gave the most valuable thing that we can imagine here on earth. His ONLY Son!

One of the Ladies of Our Daily Bread

The most beautiful people we have known are those who have known defeat, known suffering, known struggle, known loss, and have found their way out of the depths. These persons have an appreciation, sensitivity and an understanding of life that fills them with compassion, gentleness, and a deep loving concern.

Beautiful people do not just happen.

– Elizabeth Kubler Ross

Small towns have some of the most unique shopping opportunities. Barnes is one of those active small towns, but I will take a trip down Highway 36 this week to see my KU doctors. Along the way I will stop at Kelly's Shop."Family Home Treasures" in Home City. She has the neatest gift shop along 36. Then on to Seneca to meet Marilyn for a Philly Steak sandwich and Latte at the "Cornerstone Coffee Haus" located along historic Main street in Seneca. After lunch we will go across the street to see Wilma and her girls at "The Shoe Center, Inc." It is hands down my favorite place to shop for shoes, and clothing. What is one of your favorite small town shops? We'd love to know!

This Month we feature "Our Daily Bread Harvest Grain Bread"

Not all Bread is created equal...do you know what is in your Bread?
Harvard researchers report that women who eat more whole grains had a lower risk of diabetes. Why? "When you eat whole grains, you get more fiber and more micronutrients like folic acid, magnesium, and vitamin E," says Walter Willett, who chairs the nutrition department at the Harvard School of Public Health. "It may be almost impossible to isolate the pieces of the puzzle." Whole-grain-eaters also have a lower risk of cancer or heart disease in some studies. If whole grains are so healthy, why not make them a part of your regular diet for a Healthy Whole Grain New Year! We are proud to provide nutritional information on all our bread, and it is nice to be able to pronounce all of the ingredients...and of course our frozen fresh bread have NO PRESERVATIVES! Enjoy!!!

Our Harvest Grain Bread

This hearty bread includes honey, white flour, whole wheat flour, multi grain flour, and cracked wheat. It receives its nutty texture from poppy seeds, sesame seeds, and sunflower seeds. Together the ingredients create a hearty bread that tastes amazing and is amazing for you. We make all our wholesome homemade breads with NO PRESERVATIVES!

We can ship your bread right to your door...
