BAKE SHOPPE & BISTRO

"I am that Bread of Life" ...John 6:48

July/Aug 2008

We bring you wonderful taste as well as the feeling of home, of times gone by, of good quality, of healthy food and warm hearts.

We welcome our guests to take advantage of our Handicap Entrance and Beautiful Deck Area which is located at the rear of the building just off the I.O.O.F. Park

"Do not let this Book of the Law depart from your mouth; meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do everything written in it. Then you will be prosperous and successful. Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be terrified; do not be discouraged, for the Lord your God will be with you wherever you go." Joshua 1:8-9

Flooding woes are continuing. It's the lead story as far as weather is concerned, and the colossal flooding won't ease any time soon. What's worse is that there will be some showers and thunderstorms over the area hit hard by the flooding, and where the flood waters are going. Our immediate area has been spared from much of the severe damage that some of our neighbors in the Midwest have suffered. Our local worries have been the escalating cost of putting in our spring crops, and seasonal weather to allow them to grow. These are challenging days in our world. It is easy to tremble in fear if left to our own understanding. I remember an incident when our children were younger. Our oldest was convinced that our house would not be there upon her return as we left for the day. She would wave bye-bye to it as we pulled out of the drive. I explained to her that people move around, but houses stay in the same place, and that it would be there to greet her when she returned. That seemed to satisfy her at the time, till one day as we headed for town and we met a house on a truck...driving down the road. I will always remember her looking at me...with her eyes like saucers..and that look was...to say the least..... questioning?

Uncertainty seems to rock us to the core, and I tend to question someone who pretends to have the answers. I am not at all certain why the devastating events happen in our world and I have little regard for those who point fingers of blame or demand that someone make it all OK. Perhaps that is what I learned from having my world turned upside down. God's words to Joshua first of all commanded him to look to God, meditate on Him day and night, and to not let this book of the law depart from Joshua's mouth. Then God commanded Joshua to be strong & courageous, and not to be terrified or discouraged. I guess the Lord knew what was ahead for his children, and so He let them know that He would be with them. These were the words that God used to prepare Joshua for his role as a leader. And then He did something else...The Lord of the Earth stopped the waters from the flooding Jordan river from flowing. It piled up in a heap a great distance away, so the Children of Israel could cross over on dry ground.(Joshua3:16)

....."He did this so that all the peoples of the earth might know that the hand of the Lord is powerful and so that you might always fear the Lord your God" Joshua 4:24

Do you own this park?

I had to laugh one day last week as I was fishing several crushed pop cans out of the fountain in the I.O.O.F.Park. There were quite a few kids there playing basketball on this beautiful summer evening. A young man came up to me and asked, "Do you own this park? I laughed and said, "No, I just just help care for it. If I had thought quicker, I would have said something profound like, "None of us really own anything- we are just here for a season and all we truly leave behind is what we give away." Just about that time Charlie & Shirley Hern drove up. It was so good to see him home and looking so good. " Yep, we are just here on an extended leave!, chuckled Charlie.

Many times we are asked how a small town like Barnes can have so much to offer. I believe that the existence or demise of any town, small or not, has to do with the people who make their home there. If our whole world is wrapped around only our own home, and our own creature comforts, and we have nothing to give to others, the path is inevitable. The moment we care for something outside of ourselves- everyone is blessed!

Stop by soon and enjoy the I.O.O.F. park and enjoy the flower garden that Marilyn Laflen and Tim Harlan have worked so hard on as part of their Master Gardener program. We thank them for all their hard work...that we all can enjoy!...and if you see a pop can floating in the pool, fish it out...thanks!

Focus on.....The Fish!

The men of our family were busy at work last week installing a walk in freezer and making a cover for some of our compressors. Part of a family business means that everyone helps. Thanks guys!

Dear Kate and family,
I simply couldn't miss the opportunity to thank you and the entire family of Barnes and Our Daily Bread. I know the Book of John refers to Bread from Heaven and Bread of Life- yet your tasty menu and service mindedness each recall His best this side of Heaven! Back at our hotel in Concordia, three male colleagues discussed the lemon meringue pie and recalled that yours exceeded their own mother's and grandmother's recipes. So today set a new benchmark in the minds of your newest customers. Thank you for your role in creating a very positive first impression of Barnes.
God bless,
