"There is a time for everything, and a season for every purpose under heaven..." Ecclesiastes 3:1

The crisp cool days of October have arrived in Kansas. Although we have not yet received any killing frost, the trees and flowers are showing the tell tale signs that autumn is here. Not to mention the squirrels scurrying away with the black walnuts and of course the trucks and combines rapidly reaping the blessing of the summer. I am reminded again of how glad I am to live in a place that experiences all of the four seasons. There is a special joy in each one of them. This October finds Ernie and I now residing in Barnes and our son and his wife making our farm home of 33 years their own. We are making the adjustments, like knocking at the door before entering, (That is the easiest one) I am pleased that Dan wants to live there. I am glad that the memories are good ones. The seasons of our lives move forward, whether or not we resist them. It seems like I just got used to and really good at being a Mom and then....I'm a Grandma. Last week I had the pleasure of waiting on one of our favorite customers. Her name is Verneal and she loves our Orange Slice cookies. She lives at Cambridge Place in Marysville and she loves to make Barnes and Our Daily Bread her destination whenever she gets a chance to road trip. Her joy is infectious, I thank her for bringing me that gift, along with her visit.

The Book of Ecclesiastes has a lot to say about what brings Joy in it's 12 short chapters penned by King Solomon. Throughout the book he records his nuggets of wisdom along with his frustration sometimes felt by many of us..."Is this all there is?"

I am thankful that God is able to see all that I have not seen yet. He has instilled in Verneal a spirit of Joy, inspite of what she may see around her. There are many times that we don't know what God's purpose is; but our reaction to changes and sometimes turmoil depends on our character, not God's.

I want to be like Verneal...I want to be a good Grandma... Mother in LawNeighbor...and bring Joy to others!what a purpose...what a blessing!

.....Blessings! Cindy+

Historic Weaver Hotel... in Waterville, Kansas

Another Kansas Original Joins the list of must see destinations. Our neighbor Waterville, to the east on Hwy 9 is celebrating the open of the newly restored Weaver Hotel. Along with the other Bed & Breakfasts in our area, the Weaver hotel offer visitors a unique overnight experience. Travelers on the Central Branch Union Pacific Railroad in Kansas found a landmark stop in Waterville at the track-side Weaver Hotel. For decades, the Weaver was the travel, tourism and social hub of this region and of the Central Branch west of Atchison. Built in 1905, the Weaver Hotel sits directly across the street from the railroad tracks. Passengers waited for their train in the front parlor of the hotel, found lodging upstairs, ate in the dining room, and stepped across the street for performances in the Opera House. Railroad crews also stayed at the Weaver; first the workers building the railroad further west, and then the regular train crews. In the early years, drummers (traveling salesmen) arrived on the train and stayed at the Weaver Hotel. The impressive Weaver Building and "cosmopolitan" establishment was known as the "Pride of the Central Line". The Weaver Hotel is a landmark of railroad history, and symbol of the partnership between local commerce and the transportation industry. It came into being because of the railroad and lives again as a railroad history preserved in Waterville. After sitting quietly empty for years, the Waterville Preservation Society purchased the building and set out to save a piece of the community's history. With the help of two grants and the hard work of many concerned citizens, the Weaver Hotel has been given a new face-lift inside and out and is ready for your visit. The facility hosts 10 lodging rooms, 2 party rooms, a visitor center with gift shop, and a 4-floor elevator. The entire facility is handicapped accessible.

Have you tried... Our Poppy Seed Dressing?

We serve our own, made from scratch Poppy Seed Dressing, on our House Salad when you visit Our Daily Bread. We also bottle our delicious dressing for you to enjoy at home or give as a gift. With the main ingredients of Balsamic Vinegar and Olive Oil, it requires no refrigeration. Many of our customers tell us they love it so much they use it on more than just salads. It is available at the Bake Shoppe daily, on our On-Line Store at www.our-dailybread.com

Look for us on Facebook!

Our Daily Bread now has a Facebook Page. Check us out...become a fan...leave us a note...locate articles written about us.... Keep track of Special Events..

Applause!!!!

For the Master Gardeners, Marilyn Laflen and Tim & Cristy Harlan who shared their talents this summer in the I.O.O.F Park flower garden....Thank you for giving so much of yourselves to others!

Holiday Orders....Order Early!

Place your Holiday Orders Early to ensure your gifts and orders arrive on time. All of the products from pies to rolls are made from Scratch...we don't mass produce anything.

Orders may be place well ahead of your holiday gathering in order to ensure that we can fill your order. Give us the date that you would like your gift to arrive, and we will ship it at the appropriate time, or you can arrange for pickup at the Bake Shoppe.

We would love to help make your holiday Special!

Prices listed on our On-Line Store include packaging and handling charges. They are not the prices that are charged for items picked up at our store.

On a visit to the Kansas State Fair, I was reminded again the we aren't the only ones that still do things the old fashioned way. There is no replacement for the wholesome product delivered everyday to your grocery store...Milk! That wholesome milk and creamy butter is what makes our products so delicious! Hats off to Dairy Farmers!

Enjoy Historic Barnes...
